FortuneBuilders.com

FortuneBuilders is the premier real estate education company in the country. Founded by nationally recognized real estate investors, we have developed the systems, tools, educational platforms, coaching and consulting program to accelerate new and existing real estate professionals.

FortuneBuilders was the result of a convergence of three passions: Real Estate, Entrepreneurship and Education. As successful investors we discovered the freedom and lifestyle these passions afforded us. FortuneBuilders is our vehicle to share, teach, motivate and inspire individuals everywhere. In 2004, Than Merrill, Konrad Sopielnikow, Paul Esajian and JD Esajian started CT Homes, a real estate investment business. The systems and processes they created to scale quickly, maximize profits and reduce risk lead to their rapid success. These systems became the foundation for the FortuneBuilders educational platform and coaching program. FortuneBuilders offers an advanced and comprehensive investing education. Our flagship program, Mastery Coaching, is a one-on-one consulting program that provides students with a number of tools, resources, knowledge and systems necessary to accelerate their progress in real estate.

Our Accolades:

"FortuneBuilders is extremely proud to be recognized for the 3 years in a row and it's a testament to our team, our systems and our students," said Than Merrill, CEO of FortuneBuilders. "We are honored by the recognition and it represents the importance of providing the best possible education and resources for our students. In a difficult economic time people are looking for the best opportunities for them and their families. We take pride in teaching our students how to grow an investment business that gives them that opportunity, and our inclusion not only validates our efforts but drives us to work even harder."

FortuneBuilders' CEO, Than Merrill, was among the select list of honorees for the SDBJ Most Admired CEOs. Merrill was nominated for his leadership and efforts toward continued innovation in FortuneBuilders' premier real estate investment education. As a 2012 finalist, Than Merrill joins top CEOs from all across San Diego and from every industry. Honorees represented all aspects of local San Diego businesses including service organizations, hospitals, financial institutions, tech companies and non-profits.

The core values for FortuneBuilders are ethics and integrity, inspire, educate & lead. As a founder and CFO, Paul Esajian lives and breathes each of these core values. As CFO, Paul manages and maintains a workforce of more than 200 employees throughout North America. He has bootstrapped a business he started with his partners 10 years ago with a passion and a dream. His fiduciary and fiscal responsibility is one of the primary reasons the company continues to grow. He has managed over 800 percent revenue growth over the course of the last three years. Additionally, his role has helped create more than 100 jobs in the last 2.5 years. He has created sales systems and procedures to increase sales by 33 percent.

A Look Into Our Past...

Our Team:

Than Merrill

Founder and CEO of FortuneBuilders and CT Homes. Than is one of the most successful real estate investors in the nation. He has bought and sold hundreds of properties nationwide during his investing career and he founded FortuneBuilders with the simple idea of sharing his knowledge and passion for real estate with aspiring investors. As a graduate of Yale University and a former NFL player, Than attributes his success in sports, business and investing to coaching, education and systems.

Paul Esajian

Paul Esajian, Co-Founder of FortuneBuilders and CFO of CT Homes, is one of nation's premier real estate investors and speakers. His ideas for building a business have been used to develop CT Homes into the premier real estate solutions companies, which resulted in him and his team being featured on a popular flipping houses reality show. Paul is an experienced project manager who specializes in personnel management and incentive based motivation for his contractors.

JD Esajian

JD Esajian, star of a popular flipping houses reality show, is head project manager of CT Homes LLC, a multi-million dollar real estate investing company, as well as a national speaker with FortuneBuilders Inc, a real estate educational training company. He, along business partners Than Merrill and brother Paul Esajian are some of the nation's most successful investors and are considered elite experts in buying, fixing, and selling properties.
